PRODUCTION SUPPORT STAFF

I MISSION

As a staff of the Chief, Economic Research the Chief, Production Support Staff is charged with the responsibility of coordinating and consolidating the productivity of the various Economic Research Divisions to ensure substantive fulfillment of economic intelligence responsibilities levied on Economic Research by the Coordination Staff.

II FUNCTIONS

The Chief, Production Support Staff shall:

A. Provide advice and assistance for the assignment of individual production responsibilities among the Divisions of Economic Research.

B. Provide the central effort and coordination in economic research activities of such broad scope as to cross the lines separating the spheres of responsibility of the basic producing divisions.

C. Serve as the consolidation point for economic intelligence productivity when production responsibilities are for large areas or subjects of combined intelligence and extended beyond the specific divisional functions.

D. Act as the Economic Research control point for the submittal of economic intelligence to and liaison with the ORR/Coordination Staff.

E. Build and maintain a comprehensive "Estimates File" to provide ready access to economic information in a manner sufficiently flexible to meet varying demands of analytical research personnel.
